Wedding Dress Reads Simply for Thirty-Million-Dollar Owner.

Here and There With Notables in Social Life-Visitors Feted. Personals.

The wedding of Miss Catherine Barker, the thirty-million-dollar heiress, and Howard H. Spaulding, jr., which is set for next Saturday in Harbor Point, Mich., is to be one of the most interesting and novel ceremonies of the summer. The service will be read in an outdoor setting at the summer place of the bride and is to be preceded and followed by many festivities. Miss Barker has been entertaining at a house party for a fortnight or more, her guests being the members of her bridal

Her wedding gown is of white satin and white chiffon with bodice of net and real lace, and with a square empire train of satin lined with flesh-colored chiffon hanging from the shoulders The skirt is made with four tunics, each with a border of pearl trimming and silver lace, and there is also pearl trimming on the bodice; the train has an embroidered bow knot of pearls on it and is caught in one corner with a spray of real orange blossoms. The sleeves are fashioned of the lace. The veil is held by a narrow wreath of orange blossoms and is caught at the back with a butterfly bow of silver lace.

After joining her husband here shortly, Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis will ac-company the Senator to Asheville, N. C., and from there will go to Utah.

Maj. Gen. George Barnett and Mrs. Barnett arrived last Friday in San Die-go from this city. They will enjoy a sojourn of several weeks in the southern part of the state before going to San Francisco, where they have a long list of friends.

Mrs. William Burke's visit to Detroit to Mr. and Mrs. Alvan McCauley has been made a delightful one. Among the parties in her honor were dinners by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Corbin and Mrs. Horace Strongfellow. Mrs. Burke spent the last week end at Harbin Beach with her hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. William McLean Ritter are in Columbus, Ohio and were honor guests at a dinner given at the Arlington Country Club by Dr. and Mrs. William K. Rogers. The Ritters are en route to Manchester, Vt., where they will spend the rest of the summer.
